SA International Announces New Partnership with Tekgraf Corporation

Philadelphia, PA –May 2, 2006 – SA International, the leading provider of digital print and digital print & cut software solutions, and Tekgraf Corporation, the leading distributor of digital color products and services are pleased to announce their partnership for distribution of new software products for digital printing and vinyl cutting solutions. Both renowned leaders in the industry, teaming together will create powerful Print & Cut and RIP software solutions that will take solvent printing to the next level. Working together, SA International and Tekgraf have developed two customized solutions to support the release of the Hewlett Packard solvent printer offering.

PhotoPRINT SE-Tekgraf Edition RIP software includes not only drivers for the Designjet 8000 and 9000 solvent printers, but also supports the DesignJet 5500 for a complete workflow solution. Whether directly from the application, or managing through a high product server application, PhotoPRINT SE provides consistent output time after time.

FlexiPRINT & CUT-Tekgraf Edition signmaking software includes Designjet 5500, 8000 and 9000 drivers. Flexi is a simple package for designing text layouts and vinyl cutting or can be utilized in a high production environment with cutting and printing tools.

"SA International has a reputation of providing quality products that are easy to use," states Mimi Anderson, Vice President of Marketing, Tekgraf Corporation. "The market is constantly seeking ways to streamline their workflow, reduce cost and produce quality output. As two experienced leaders, SA International and Tekgraf understand these needs and are here to assist dealers as they offer digital solutions to both traditional and new markets."

"By working together, SA International and Tekgraf Corporation will provide a complete Print and/or Print & Cut solution that not only helps customers facing current production needs, but also results in increased production and increased profits," states Jim Cain, Vice President of Sales, the Americas & Japan, SA International. "SA International is proud to have Tekgraf Corporation as a strategic partner in this distribution strategy."
